COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The Board of Selectmen at their regular semi-monthly meeting on Monday evening, August 9, took action on a variety of items. Michael Kaplan met with the Board to discuss the detail required on property maps submitted when applying to put land under the tree growth program. Preliminary maps of his property were presented for the Board's review. It was suggested that areas to be included and excluded be differentiated by using a color code.

The following bids were received for supplying #2 fuel oil to the Town for the period Sept. 1, 1976 to Aug. 31, 1977: Ripley & Fletcher Co., 3457, Bethel Oil Company, 3824, and Brooks Bros. Inc., 385 (including service labor). The Board voted to award the contract to Ripley and Fletcher Co.

Only one bid was received for supplying a 1977 Police Car. The Board voted to readvertise prior to Sept. 15, or when 1977 prices are generally available.

The Board reviewed plans submitted by Dana Douglass and recommended by the Planning Board for drainage at the Jones Shopping Center at the corner of Cross Street and Route 26. These plans indicate that the lot will be graded to direct surface runoff toward the Route 26 end of the lot and that street access will be only from the Route 26 end. The Board approved these plans, adding however, that a hot top curb be installed along the Cross Street side of the parking area to retain water.

DOWNED PILOT RESCUED IN EVANS NOTCH WEDNESDAY

A New Hampshire airplane pilot, missing since Sunday, on a Caribou to Manchester, N. H. flight, was rescued Wednesday by a U. S. Coast Guard helicopter after his downed plane had been spotted in a heavily wooded area of Evans Notch, near Gilead, by the Oxford County Civil Air Patrol.

Alec R. Anderson, age 60, of Goffstown, N. H., who was uninjured, was piloting a 1958 Piper Tri-pacer, which was equipped with an electronic location transmitter, a device which automatically functions following a hard landing, sending out signals which can be picked up by searcher aircraft. This device, and the blazing fire which Mr. Anderson started Wednesday are credited with his timely rescue.

Torrential rains early in the week had hampered search operations, which were underway by both Maine and New Hampshire officials. Also assisting in the rescue were members of the Oxford County Sheriff's Department, Maine State Police, fire wardens, and Rescue Services from Fryeburg and Bethel.

This week has started out the same as last week, rain and more rain, 60° Monday morning and raining. Everyone watching news on hurricane Belle.

Some flower boxes and plants have been added to the little porch at the school house the past week, making the front entrance very attractive.

The people in town are having hard work to gather in their vegetables, such as string beans, berries etc., on account of so much rain has damaged their gardens, not enough sun for sweetcorn, tomatoes etc.

Alanson Lovejoy and his grandfather, A. R. Cummings, were in Lewiston on business on Friday.

Returning from the doctors in Harrison on Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Alanson Cummings called on Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Blaquiere in Norway and Henry Stone in West Paris.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Roberts from Friday night to Sunday night were her daughter, Gloria, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Piper and family. They brought their camper and parked it on the lawn so to use for sleeping quarters and to get some of their meals while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gilbert returned Sunday night to Sunday night from a week end visit with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Stowell of Shirley, Mass. They reported they were glad to see the rain in Massachusetts as it was very dry there.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Valcourt and Christine were in Nashua, N. H., on the week end. They visited her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Stone at St. Joseph's Hospital, Nashua. They found her recovering very well from recent surgery. They expect she will return home the first of the week.

They put in the footings for Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cordwell's new house in the land development area this past week. They expect the walls to be finished this week and work started on the house which they hope to be finished this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gilbert entertained at a supper party Aug. 5 in honor of their daughter, Mrs. Arthur Head's (Sheila) birthday. A nice supper was served including a birthday cake and ice cream. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Head and daughters, Jane and Marietta, Miss Roberta Gilbert, Mrs. Lona Gilbert and hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gilbert. Mrs. Head received several gifts, including a cedar chest, money and several cards.

There was a family gathering at the home of Cleveland Lovejoy Saturday night to celebrate the first birthday of Shane Allan, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alanson Lovejoy. Mr. and Mrs. Ray West, Rebecca and Christopher, came from South Rumford. They brought a special cake in the shape of a figure one. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Archambault of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Rumford attended and enjoyed the family party, that numbered 11. Miss Ellen Lovejoy, who is attending Maine Music Camp in Farmington was unable to attend, but phoned in congratulations. Little Shane had more cakes, clothing, toys, money and a U. S. Savings Bond among his gifts. Great Grandpa Cummings and his Dad took pictures.

The Lovejoy Orchestra played for a dance Aug. 7 at the American Legion Hall, Locke Mills, for benefit of the baseball team.

GARDEN NOTES

A year ago we were very busy making preparations for a wedding reception to be held in a family barn in Bethel. We collected all the large containers we could find, both ours and those we could borrow. The week before the wedding we drove around country roads, spotting suitable wild flowers that would make grand bouquets for decoration. We found in bloom a wealth of wild material that would produce glorious old fashioned bouquets. Besides golden glow, donated by a kind neighbor from her garden, we used black eyed Susans, Tansy, Queen Anne's Lace, Pearly Everlasting, Cat-Tails, plumes of wild grasses and sprays of High Bush Cranberry, Viburnum, with bright orange berries, not yet quite ripe and green and bronze leaves that made a perfect foil for the yellows, whites and browns of other materials.

Our decorations proved very successful and yet I believe, in no way violated the regulations recommended in "A Guide for Conserving the Wild Flowers of Maine" prepared by the Garden Club Federation in cooperation with the Josselyn Botanical Society, available through the State of Maine Dept. of Education, State Office Building, Augusta, Maine, 04330. This small leaflet contains three lists of wild plants, both native and garden escapes, entitled "Pick Freely where abundant," "Pick in moderation where generally abundant," and "Leave Growing. Do not disturb." The lists are introduced by a set of "Outdoor Good Manners" that we can all benefit by and appreciate.

Black-Eyed Susan, Cat-tail, Everlasting, Queen Anne's Lace, and Tansy are among the first list of plants and Viburnum is one of the second. If we had so desired, we might have added Boneset, Bouncing Bet, Daisies, Steeple-Bush, Meadow-Sweet, Purple Loosestrife and Joe-Pye-Weed. A bit later in the month Golden Rod and New England Aster would have been equally desirable for large bouquets. All of these are also listed under "Pick freely where abundant" and are specified as making good cut flowers.

Also indicated in the lists are the types of habitats in which plants may be found, such as swamp or field, wood or waste land. Both common and botanical names are given and are based on Gray's "Manual of Botany" for those interested in nomenclature. The list, "Leave Growing. Do Not Disturb," will be of special interest to those who are conservation minded. Since several wild geraniums are common around my home in Ithaca, N. Y., I was surprised to discover them all grouped together here on this last list.

Though harmless enough to pick flowers or collect a plant or two from the wild when the supply is plentiful and the variety in no way endangered, too many of us are unaware of what is scarce in our own state. The plant lists in this guide were specially prepared for Maine by State organizations and thus deserve particular attention from all of us interested in both enjoying and conserving our own natural heritage.

THE RED CROSS
Financially, it has been a dark
year for the American Red Cross.
But when weighed by uncomplicated, it has been a good year for the humanitarian organization.
Its volunteers and staff have fed, sheltered and cared for disaster victims in every state and in such far-flung locales as Guam and Guatemala. The catastrophe has ranged from earthquakes to typhoons, from tornadoes and floods to fires.

DEXTER ADDRESSES HISTORICAL SOCIETY

At the monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society on Aug.
10, Dexter Addres, Oxford Hills
teacher of Maine History and English spoke on the topic "Paris Hill and History". Dexter described the origins of Paris Hill and aspects of its early development. He then discussed briefly some of the important national and state figures who have lived on the hill, including Vice President Hannibal Hamlin and Governors Esch Lincoln and Albion K. Parry.

Preceding Dexter's presentation
in the Kerosene lit church, Edward H. Hastings led at the organ while the group sang several patriotic songs. Stephen Seames sang a solo. Refreshments served by the East Bethel Church Association
followed the meeting which was attended by approximately 70 persons.

SHERIFF HOWE REPORTS ON HOUSE AND CAMP BREAKS
Oxford County Sheriff Alton L.
Howe has reported the arrest of Linwood V. Dill, age 40 of Buck-field, and Charles M. Pratt, age 28, of Buckfield and Auburn in connection with five major house breaks that occurred in the Summer/Buckfield areas during March and April of 1976. Criminal investigator Dill stated that the success of the arrest of the arrest of the perpetrators was the excellent cooperation that the sheriff's department received from the residents of the area, in conjunction with the National Neighborhood
Watch Program. Sheriff Howe would like to emphasize that this is what the National Neighborhood Watch Program is all about,
and requests that all Oxford County Citizens continue reporting all suspicious or unusual activities.

Assisting in the Monday night
arrest of the duo were Oxford County Deputy Sheriffs William
Williams, Eldon Bartlett, Paris
police officers G. Bradley Taylor and Randy Harrington, Norway Police Officer Lloyd Herrick, State Trooper Leroy Gray.

Linwood V. Dill was released on $5,000 bail and scheduled for arraignment on Aug. 10, 1976.
Charles M. Pratt was arraigned on Aug. 5, 1976, and recommitted to the Oxford County Jail for failure to furnish $15,000 bail.

Sheriff Alton L. Howe also reports that criminal investigator Aaron Cox has charged four local juveniles in connection with five camp breaks that occurred in the Norway area during June of 1976.
All four juveniles were brought before Judge John L. Betheron on Aug. 5, 1976 and received six months probation. Restitution and sentencing of the youths was continued on a day to day basis.

S. A. D. #44 POLICY FOR FREE/REDUCED PRICE MEALS IS ANNOUNCED

M. S. A. D. #44 today announced its policy for free and reduced price meals, free milk for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch, School
Breakfast, and Milk Only Programs.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size income criteria for determining eligibility:

Family Size (Including Adults)	Total Family Income
1	$0 to $2,630
2	0 to 4,830
3	0 to 5,980
4	0 to 7,120
5	0 to 8,120
6	0 to 9,240
7	0 to 10,200
8	0 to 11,150
9	0 to 12,010
10	0 to 12,870
11	0 to 13,720
12	0 to 14,590

For each additional
family member add $950

Family Size (Including Adults)	Total Family Income
1	$2,631 to $5,720
2	4,831 to 7,520
3	5,981 to 9,220
4	7,121 to 11,110
5	8,121 to 12,770
6	9,241 to 14,410
7	10,201 to 15,910
8	11,151 to 17,290
9	12,011 to 18,740
10	12,871 to 20,090
11	13,721 to 21,420
12	14,591 to 22,770

For each additional
family member add $1,340

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced price meals or free milk. In addition families not meeting
these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 20% of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casuality losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents.
Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential
and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases foster children
are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.
Under the provisions of the policy,
Hilda M. Brown, Hot Lunch
Director, will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. If he wishes to make a formal appeal, he may make a request either orally or in writing to Kenneth Smith, Superintendent, 824-2266, for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

If a family member becomes unemployed or if family size changes, the family should contact the school to file a new application.
Such changes may make the children of the family eligible for reduced price meals or for additional benefits such as free meals and milk if the family income falls at or below the levels shown above.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race,
sex, color, or national origin.

Each school and the office of the Superintendent of Schools has a copy of the complete policy

BURGLARIES REPORTED BY OXFORD COUNTY SHERIFF
Oxford County Sheriff Alton
Howe has reported that sometime during the night of Aug. 8, perpetrators forced their way through a rear door at Jordan's Restaurant in Locke Mills and fled with a large assortment of whiskey, brandy,
Scotch and nearly $200 in cash.
Criminal Investigator Aaron Cox
and Deputy Eldon Bartlett, the investigating officers, state the case is still under investigation.

Also during the night of Aug. 8, Burt Buckskins on Route 28 in Oxford, were the victims of another break. Perpetrators forced their way through a rear window, and fled with the establishment for nearly $250 worth of valuable goods. Deputy Don Guilford is investigating the incident and states that more items are felt to be missing. Guilford is being assisted by Sheriff Deputy Francis G. Weeks.

Sheriff Howe encourages all businesses and private homes to take precautions of insuring their doors, and windows are properly secured, and to report any unusual activity in the area.

VAIL FAMILY REUNION

The descendants of David and Alice Shields Vail held their 50th annual reunion on Sunday, Aug. 1, at the Bear River Grange Hall in Newry. There were 113 members and guests in attendance.

The highlight of the day was the dedication of a bronze plaque in honor of our flag which had been the funeral flag of John B. Vail, a veteran of World War I, and which was presented to the family by his youngest brother, Thomas "Fitz" Vail, of St. Petersburg, Fla.

A second highlight was the presentation of a Vail Coat of Arms which had been painted by one of the members, Mark E. Vail, of Newry.

The meeting, as usual, was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag, and the membership joining in the singing of the Vail Song which was written by one of the members, Phyllis Cole.

In addition to the above, prizes were awarded to members as follows: Two handmade patchwork quilts by Thomas Vail were won by Mary Blaisdell of Needham, Mass., and Joyce Clifford of Newry.

There was also an afghan donated by Sally Berardinelli of Needham, Mass. This afghan was especially prized as it had been started by her mother, Athie Vail, prior to her death last winter and was completed by Sally to comply with her mother's wishes that it be given to the Reunion as one of the prizes this year. Mrs. Vail's afghans are owned and enjoyed by many people across the nation. This afghan was received by Andrew Clarke of St. Petersburg, Fla.

An additional award of a cash door prize was received by June Swan of Barre, Vt.

Officers for the coming year are: Francis H. Vail, Sr., president; William Vail, Sr., Vice President; Merle Beauzelelli, Secretary.

Co-Op Corner

by David H. Denison

Gina Emery, Kathy Hutchins, and Karen Emery (left to right) recently completed a six week course of instruction at Rumford Community Hospital certifying them as Nurse Aides. The program provided the above Telstar students with the basic patient care skills necessary to function as Nurse Aides in hospitals and nursing homes.

The program was initiated four years ago by the Rumford Community Hospital and the Co-Op program at Telstar. Since that time, the program has expanded to include students from other area high schools. A total of eighteen (18) students from Telstar have graduated from the program in that period of time, and each of these students receive academic credit for participating in the training through the Co-Op program.

Y. C. C. EXPERIENCES
VARIETY OF WORK PROJECTS

The Youth Conservation Corps is a nationwide work and educational program sponsored by federal agencies which employ high school age youth in environmental conservation projects.

The U. S. Forest Service in Bethel has employed 19 youngsters to participate in the Y. C. C. for eight weeks this summer. To date Bethel area youngsters, five boys and five girls, have worked in a wide variety of work and educational projects. They have done 53 miles of trail maintenance work. They provided all of the hand tool labor for the construction of four new camp sites at Wild River Camp Ground. National Forest Boundaries have been located, re-labeled and painted in many locations by the energetic young workers. Heavy duty foot bridges have been constructed by the group to aid hikers as well as to prevent stream bank erosion and damage to wet areas. Many other projects will be completed by the end of the Y. C. C. program.

On the educational side of the program the youngsters have had the opportunity to spend complete days in field study with a wild life biologist, a soil scientist, a hydrologist and a professional for- est ranger.

The Forest Service hopes that no matter what the youngsters plan for the future they will have a lasting interest and appreciation for work in conservation.

Albany

Kathy Bennett, Corres.

It rained on their parade, but it didn't dampen the spirits of the parade in Waterford as they had their bicentennial celebration last week.

Barbara and Howard Jones had a boat in the parade representing their garage business. All the family helped in preparing the boat. Their granddaughter Michelle and her son Danny, rode on the float depicting the means of transportation in 1776 and 1976.

Tuesday callers of Albert and Mrs. Richard Jones, Saturday the McAllisters attended the parade in Waterford and later they attended the dance held at the fairgrounds in North Waterford.

Friday callers of Hugh and Elizabeth Stearns were by Philbrook and Mrs. Richard Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jones called on Alice and Arthur Wardwell last week. Arthur, Alice and Jane Wardwell enjoyed a few days camping at Baxter State Park the first of last week.

Kid's Acres is bustling with activity as usual. I guess we'll be busy sweeping and off from everything if this blizzarding rain doesn't stop. Our potatoes are already under water. We finished laying Thursday night. What? Now we have to cut about 12 cords of firewood. Callers this week have been Barbara and Howard Jones, Vicki Jones, Hugh and Elizabeth Stearns, and her daughter, Karen, stopped for a few minutes Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Westworth, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Billings, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hurling, Beth, Jeff and Jamie Barton and friend Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Perry, and Mr. and Mrs. Karen and Anne Marie, of this town, spent the week and with us. We all went to the parade in Waterford on Saturday.

There will be another grand supper served by the Albany Church on Sunday, Aug. 12, at 4 p.m. at the Albany Church.

The North's Cemetery Association had a very successful supper and sale on Saturday night.

Keep your umbrellas and boots handy. Maybe we had better hold an ark to long until next week.

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Colita Morgan, Corres. —

Now the old dirt roads, dross in mellow sunshine. Their peace and beauty remind us of the part they played in our nation's history, but no longer fit our needs. They wind along beside the singing brooks and shadowed creeks. They meander from farm to farm. It was such a road which Ruth and I followed one afternoon this week. We had heard about it so decided to explore.

We first stopped at the place where she thought her great-grandfather William Yates, built his home when he settled on Patch Mountain in 1802. Our next stop was at the cemetery where he and his wife are buried; he age 96 years. Also here, were the stones of Daniel and Eunice Verrill. I mention this because it was their house ruins which we hoped to find.

They moved to Patch Mountain in 1818-19 and built a log cabin and later a frame house. This was on the main road to Albany, which at one time was the stage road to Canada. Later it was abandoned beyond the Verrill homestead and now is barely discernible in a heavy wooded area. But as always there were the stone walls.

We come times ask, "Why did the long ago pioneers with dreams of new homes choose places like these?" All places were like these back then, I suppose.

Daniel's home was typical of Maine residences. The barn, sheep shed, hen house and carpenter shop all being connected with the house in a continuous row. Daniel is listed as a trader and inn holder in the Verrill history. He learned carpentry while young and while living in Greenwood had erected 144 frame houses.

The luck of August was with us, a period of summer quietness. How different after the urgency of our spring.

The tall trees stood motionless through the afternoon. Golden red showed its banners, and wild asters made patches of blue in any place they could. The summer pennants now begin to show their change from russet to wine red. Still sterner hardfaced stretch their spires to the lot sun.

We occasionally heard a song sparrow, but an aria to an indifferent world.

Before the road began to be too brown in, we found foundations which we hoped were those for which we searched. Old fashioned rice bushes gave us the best that a house was once near by. Therefore we searched and found.

The afternoon was getting late and we turned back going from ridge to ridge, often halting just to gaze and listen. The sun faded broke up the glossy leaves in long rays, like mountain water among boulders.

We were well satisfied with our journey into the past. It was short compared to the one of the next day but this is another story.

We were once again leaving the region which once was cut by creeks, where high pastures, rose out of wooded valleys to catch the sunlight and fall away over granite bluffs. A pretty country.

PARIS HILL DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN FOR BICENTENNIAL

On Aug. 21 and 22 this year, in honor of the Bicentennial, the Paris Hill Historical Society, the Community Club, Country Club and the Hamlin Memorial Library are collaborating to sponsor various activities in the village which will be of interest to young and old alike.

Many summer visitors, as well as natives, remember the days when the old historical homes on Paris Hill were open to the public once a year. Unfortunately, in the climate of the times, this old time pleasure is no longer possible. But the town itself, with its old houses dating from 1778, is still of interest and visitors come every year to see it, especially since several years ago the village was declared a National Historical Landmark.

Saturday, Aug. 21, events will start at 10 a. m. with a gala costume parade around the Town Common and the village square, including a band, antique cars, ponies and coaches. A concert by the Oxford Hills Bicentennial band will follow on the Common.

At 11:00 a big Antique Show and Sale will get underway at the Old Academy building, which is now the Community Club. This show will feature 24 dealers from around the state, arranged for by James Montell of Gardner. It is interesting that one of the events of the Centennial celebration of the town, almost 100 years ago, was an antique show. This one will run from 11 a. m. to 8 p. m. on Saturday and again from noon to 6:00 on Sunday. Admission will be charged. Proceeds from the sale will go for preservation and restoration of the Academy building.

Village walking tours will be available during these same times. The important buildings will be identified by numbers and their stories told in a souvenir newspaper similar to one published in the town between 1824 and 1834. These will be available at the information booth in the Old Law Office or in the Hamlin Memorial Library, and those who take the tour will have pointed out to them the Old Court House, Jail and Tailor's house, County Office Building, the oldest house in Paris, the Baptist Church with Rev. E. Bell, and the Hannibal Hamlin House and others. Most of these are privately owned, but the Church, the Jail and the Academy may be visited.

In Cummings Hall in the Baptist Church on Saturday afternoon, there will be an exhibit by local artists, and in the Library, a special exhibit of antiques and paintings of the area.

On Sunday afternoon the Choralers will be held in concert on the steps of the Baptist Church, and at 7 p. m. a special vesper service will be held there, concluding the program.

During the two day event, there will be a snack bar at the Academy, and the Country Club will serve lunch both days from noon to 2 p. m.

Mrs. Robert Dennison representing the Community Club and Mrs. Alexander the Historical Society, are the co-chairman for the event. Other chairmen include Mrs. L. E. Schlanser, antique show; Mrs. W.

OWNERS OF WOXO, NORWAY, PURCHASE WKTP

On Tuesday, July 27, radio station WKTP in South Paris was sold by Robert and Pamela Healy to Richard and Kathy Gleason, present owners of WOXO in Norway.

In selling the station, the Healys stated that they have long believed that both AM and FM stations should be under one roof.

The Gleasons purchased WOXO last December. Since then, Dick Gleason has become active in many civic groups.

"The Oxford Hills area is young and growing and the business people are optimistic about the future", states Gleason.

When asked what the plans are for WKTP's future, Gleason could only say that there is a strong interest in country and western music in the area.

"Many people seem to be listening to out-of-town stations to satisfy this need. Also, we like the nickname idea similar to WOXO's '93X'. Since WKTP is at 14 on the dial, we have asked the FCC for WKTV, the last three Roman Numerals for 14."

WKTP and WOXO plan to strengthen their local news efforts, and a search is on to find a building suitable for their combined needs.

The Gleasons and their two daughters reside on Orchard Street in Norway.
